

Brazilian Beef

Formed by the largest beef exporting industries in Brazil, the Association of Brazilian Beef Exporters (ABIEC) has become the chief private body to give support to national and international negotiations of Brazilian beef production chain.

The association fosters trade by promoting the opening and maintenance of the importing markets and by supporting the Brazilian Ministry of Agriculture, Livestock and Supply Chain with the regulation of this industry and the implementation of animal health programs. In partnership with the Brazilian Trade and Investment Promotion Agency – ApexBrasil, the ABIEC and his associates have participated in international fairs, workshops and communication with the press.

Today Brazil exports beef to over 130 countries. It has beef internationally recognized as a healthy, natural product, with a low fat content and a large versatility in the consumers' menu.
